

To Kill or Not To Kill? Biologists Study Buffalo Lake's Fish Population Before Decision

These contrasting pictures show one of Buffalo Lake's biggest problems—a shortage of fresh water. The picture on the left was taken in 1957, and the one on the right was taken last Monday morning.

Gill Net Test Scheduled at Buffalo Lake

What's going to happen to Buffalo Lake? Will it be poisoned, or closed or left alone?

Leo Lewis, a Texas Game and Fish Commission biologist, will spread gill nets at the lake today, and when the results of the catch are known, a decision about the lake's immediate future will be made.

Bob Darnell, the supervisor of the lake property for the Federal Wildlife agency, has proposed that the fish population in the lake be poisoned and the entire lake be restocked. Fishing would be closed for one year, although boating would continue.

Recil Johnson, manager of the concessions at the lake, said the management would not oppose the poisoning if a gill net test shows the fish population to be as high in rough fish as is expected.

Johnson said he expects the test will show about 80 per cent carp. It is believed that the carp are causing the lower game fish population and the muddy condition of the water. Carp feed on the bottom, eat fish eggs, and stir up mud.

He said that the lake needs fresh water as much as anything. The spillway depth is about 25 feet, he said. At present, the deepest water is 10½ feet, and that's near the dam at the splume. In the upper lake, water in many places is so low that boat motors drag the bottom.

Last year, rain above the lake on the watershed put only 18 inches of water in the lake, Johnson said. On hot, windy days, about an inch a day will evaporate, he said. The last time water was over the spillway was in the wet summer of 1951. Since that time, the water level has been lowering every year. In addition to evaporation losses, water is let out of the lake at the rate of a foot a year in order to supply Tierra Blanca Creek below the dam. Johnson said many of the game fish did not spawn. The channel catfish had a good spawn, as evidenced by the great numbers of fingerlings that were killed in the freezeup last winter.

He said biologists have told him that the crappie and bass did not spawn, and the carp spawn was light. He said the biologists advise that the crappie and bass which did not spawn carried their eggs over, but will never spawn again. One plan that has been advanced if the lake is poisoned is that as many game fish as possible be taken from the water and put into fresh water for saving. They would have to be kept out of the lake about two weeks, then could be put back in. One disadvantage to that plan is that the big fish might eat the fingerlings restocked into the lake, Johnson pointed out. Darnell estimated that if fingerlings are restocked, they would grow about an inch a month, and two inch fish restocked now would be 14 inches long when the lake is reopened for fishing in a year.

Some fishermen have not taken too well to the idea of closing the lake for fishing and keeping it open for boating. One said that the boats would continue to stir up the water and keep it muddy, and the whirling propellers of the motors would kill many of the fish restocked in the lake.

Johnson said he was not convinced at this time whether all the fish can be poisoned. He said that if the kill cannot be complete, it would do little good. The lake has undergone partial kills, called selective kills, in previous years. The first time it was done, the target of the poison was shad. Many tons were picked up when the shad were washed ashore. Yet there are still plenty of shad in the lake.

The poison used to kill the fish is not actually a poison, but a paralyzing agent. Rotenone is mixed into the water, and it paralyzes the fish gills so they cannot breathe. The wave action washes them ashore where they die. Fish killed in this manner are not poisoned and can be eaten without any harmful effects. The fish can be saved by taking them from the water and putting them in fresh water.

If a decision is made to kill the fish of the lake, Johnson expects that it cannot be done before the middle of May. The water temperature must be higher than it is now, and the kill is better if conditions are right.

The lowness of the lake, with little or no fresh water coming in for the past three or four years, has contributed to the bad condition of the water. It is dirty looking, and has an odor of stagnation. Whether or not this is harmful to fish has not been completely explored.

Buffalo Lake was transferred from the Department of Agriculture to the Commerce Department during the past year. Previously it was administered by the Forest Service, but the Fish and Wildlife Commission now administers it. Buffalo serves as a game reservation for waterfowl, and during the fall of the year millions of ducks and geese use it.

Three Revivals To End Sunday

Revivals at three different churches will close Sunday.

The meetings, all of which began last Sunday, are in progress at the First Baptist Church, the First Methodist Church and the Calvary Baptist Church.

Dr. Marshall Rhew, superintendent of the Stamford District of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference, is conducting the services at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Rex Mauldin, pastor at Munday, is song leader and youth worker for the revival.

Services are at 7 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. daily. The morning services are being conducted as prayer clinics.

The Baptist revivals are being conducted as a part of state-wide simultaneous revival.

The Rev. Andrew J. Pate of Palacios is serving as evangelist at the Calvary Baptist Church. Services are being held daily at 7 a. m. and 8 p. m.

The Rev. Chester O'Brien, pastor of the Paramount Baptist Church in Amarillo, is conducting services at the First Baptist Church. Services are 7 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., with a light breakfast preceding the morning service.

Emphasis for the remaining nights are Sunday School, tonight; Training Union, Thursday; family night, Friday; and youth, Saturday.

Square To Get Traffic Lights

Canyon is just about to go up town with two traffic lights on Fourth Avenue at the square.

Approval for the traffic lights, which will be at 15th and 16th streets, was given this week by the Texas Highway Department. The approval was given after a traffic count was taken at the intersections some weeks ago.

Highway department crews began measuring the intersections Tuesday afternoon to plan locations for the poles. The lights will be installed by the state department.

Some changes in driving habits will be necessary after the lights are installed, especially the habit of many drivers of making U-turns at the intersections.

The highway department has not indicated when the lights will be installed.

New Patrolman Starts for City

Raymond Reynolds started work today as a patrolman for the Canyon Police Department.

Reynolds worked several years with the Amarillo Police Department and for about a year at Panhandle. He comes to Canyon after working as a salesman for a wholesale supply company.

He and his family live at 611 Eighth Avenue.

Church of Christ Plans Meetings

A special series of meetings will be conducted by the Central Church of Christ beginning Sunday and continuing through April 26.

Guest speaker for the meetings will be Arthur Golden of Perryton. Golden is well known in Canyon and throughout the area.

In addition to the regular Sunday meetings, the church plans one meeting each weekday at 8 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend any of the meetings, according to Bob Wear, minister of the church.

Mrs. Clyde Warwick left Tuesday morning to attend a Daughters of American Revolution convention in Washington, D. C.

Court Appoints Bill Wilson JP

W. A. (Bill) Wilson was appointed Justice of the Peace for Precinct 1 by the Randall County Commissioners Court on Friday. Wilson replaces Carl Anderson, who died last week.

The appointment will be in effect until the next general election in 1960, and is probably one of the first uses in the state of the constitutional amendment voted last fall that makes interim appointments good only until the next general election.

After his appointment, Wilson said he was sorry to leave the sheriff's department, but feels that as justice of the peace he will be able to spend more time with his family. He has been a deputy sheriff, and the deputies have shifts that allow only every other Sunday off. He said his relations with the sheriff's department have been most satisfying.

County To Be Cool This Year

The courthouse will be cool this summer. The Randall County Commissioners Court accepted bids to supply window air conditioners and wire them in at the regular meeting Monday.

Anderson Appliance won the bid for supplying 23 units, with a price of $5,551. Wayne Wirt Electric won the wiring bid with a price of $1,693.

The court authorized payment of $1,976 to Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Bailey for 0.196 of an acre of land needed for the expressway. The figure includes damages to the property.

A check for $137,000 was acknowledged by the court. The check is payment from the highway department for its half of the cost of several parcels of right of way on the expressway.

A bid of $12,280 was okayed for paving four miles of county roads in Precinct 1. The bid was from Gilvin-Terrill of Amarillo.

Olga Zilboorg, cellist of the St. Louis Symphony, attended the University of Kansas, although is a native of Mexico City. She continued her studies in New York with Bernard Greenhouse, graduating at the Manhattan School of Music with the Master of Music Degree.

She has made many solo and chamber music appearances during her three years in New York. In 1957 she appeared in recital at the Palace of Fine Arts in Mexico City.

Father Fidelis Albrecht, a Franciscan Friar of San Angelo, will be speaker at a mission at St. Ann's Catholic Church here. The mission will begin Sunday and will run through April 24.

Father Albrecht is in charge of the San Jose Mission in San Angelo and churches in Bronte and Robert Lee, Texas. He has given missions, retreats, pre-Cana and Cana conferences in almost every Catholic church in the Amarillo Diocese.

He was also one of the featured speakers at the National Convention of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine in Buffalo, N. Y., last year.

The missionary will speak at both Mass at 6:30 each morning and a service at 8 each evening through Friday.

There will be a question box. All visitors are welcome to attend the services.

File Title Suit For Church Here

A suit to clear title to the Assembly of God church at Ninth Avenue and 23rd Street was filed in 47th District Court by J. M. Willson of Floydada this week.

The suit was instituted to give Willson title to the property so he can sell it to the First Methodist Church of Canyon. The church has voted to purchase the building.

Willson is asking that the court declare his $67,307.26 lien to be the first lien and to give him title. The church was built mostly by the labor of the members of the Assembly of God Church and was valued at $150,000 at the time of construction.

Last fall Church Finance, Inc., of Lubbock foreclosed on the church and bid $16,116, the amount of their lien, at that time, and gained title. Since the trustees sale on Nov. 4, the building has been empty and the Assembly of God has been meeting in the American Legion Hall for services.

Named as defendants in the Willson suit are Church Finance, Inc., the Assembly of God Church of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morris of Canyon, D. W. Shepherd of Amarillo, doing business as Quality Sheet Metal Co., Jack Taylor of Canyon, doing business as Taylor and Sons Lumber Company, and the First Assembly of God Church, Inc. of Canyon.

Cancer Crusade Money Split-Up

The annual Cancer Crusade is under way in Canyon, and it might be of interest to donors to know how the funds are split up.

Of every dollar given to the Crusade, 60 cents goes to the Texas Cancer Society and 40 cents to the American Cancer Society.

The national group's 40 cents is split with 25 cents going to research, 12 cents for the national development program and 3 cents for fellowships.

The national organization says that of every dollar raised in Texas during the April crusade, Texas uses 90 cents. It explains that most of the 40 cents going to the national society is returned to Texas in the form of research and fellowship grants.

The Texas Crusade dollar is spent as follows:

30 cents for cancer research in Texas research institutions.

16 cents for professional education—keeping the physician informed of up-to-date developments in care and treatment of cancer.

25 cents for public education—informing Texans of cancer's seven danger signals in order that they may guard themselves and their families against cancer.

7 cents for professional service—support of tumor clinics and cancer registries.

13 cents for lay service — providing cancer patients with dressings, loan closet and comfort items, transportation, etc. 4 cents for administration and program development.

5 cents for crusade to provide materials for 80,000 Texans crusading for cancer dollars to support the program.

A person with an adding machine won't make much sense of this capitulation, but that's what the national cancer society says happens to the money.

To save you the trouble of going to an adding machine, the seven items listed last provide a total of $1, rather than 90 cents or 60 cents.

Insurance Laws

An intensive campaign in the legislature and in the state press, an organization called the National Association of Independent Insurers, is trying to get the legislature to pass laws changing the state insurance code in regard to rates for auto insurance.

At present the state has a single rate system. Regardless of their driving record, drivers pay the same rate. Naturally this results in a careful driver being penalized because of the wildness of other drivers. The single rate is set by the state insurance commission, and the commission decides what the policies the insurance companies write will cover.

The NAI would do away with the single rate and give the state a flexible system that would reward the careful driver with lower rates. Like any other "reward" though, the NAI's program includes a joker.

The program would do away with the single policy system. As things stand now, any insurance purchaser knows that regardless of which company he patronizes, the coverage he purchases will be the same. The insurance commission sees to that, and it sees that the coverage is adequate.

If the NAI is able to do away with the present system, the purchaser of insurance will have to be mighty careful. He won't be able to pick his company on price—no sir. He'll have to read the policy very carefully and see just what coverage he is getting, then equate that coverage with the premium rate offered.

We'd like to see a system to reward the careful driver. We think the driver who has no accidents should pay a lower premium than does the reckless driver.

But we'd like to see this system go into effect. The state insurance commission would set the minimum coverages that a policy would have to offer. The commission would then set a ceiling above which the premium could not go (to make sure that the companies don't charge just anything the traffic will bear), then allow the companies to set their rates anywhere they would like. We believe that would have the end result of giving the careful driver a lower car insurance rate, yet would protect all drivers from the chances of purchasing sub-standard insurance policies.

I GIVE YOU
TEXAS
By BOYCE HOUSE

It is an experience that every American should have — to visit the State Capitol of Virginia, a beautiful white building with stately columns, atop a hill surrounded by grassy slopes. The structure was based upon the design of an ancient temple in Nimes, France. The plaster model which Thomas Jefferson sent from France can be seen in the rotunda. So as not to break the classic lines of the building, the dome is beneath the roof.

IN THE CENTER of the rotunda is Houdon's marble figure of Washington; and in niches are busts of the eight Virginia-born presidents. I could have named Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Wilson but did not know, or had forgotten, that William Henry Harrison, Tyler and Taylor were born in the Old Dominion.

The Old Hall of the House of Delegates was astir the day I was there for, in a little while, ceremonies honoring the 150th anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis were to be held. A statue of Robert E. Lee marks the spot where he stood as he accepted command of the forces of Virginia.

There is a statue also of Henry Clay as well as full figures or busts of other great native sons, including Sam Houston, in this hall. It was here that the treason trial of Aaron Burr was held, Chief Justice John Marshall presiding.

In the old Senate Chamber, the Confederate Senate met; and here the body of Stonewall Jackson lay in state.

IN ONE TOWN, I bought a box of apple candy. Well, I'd never heard of apple candy, either. As I sent it to a friend in Texas, I'm unable to report what it tasted like but no doubt it was good.

Virginia is a land of beauty, the highway from Richmond to the Tennessee line offering a succession of vistas of mountains, valleys, groves, cattle grazing in meadows, a log house beside a stream—all this arched by a blue sky adorned with white clouds. No wonder Lee loved the state so much and that so many of her sons were willing to die in the defense of Virginia.

What Our Neighbors Say...

Scissor Snippings

Bascom Nelson in the Castro County News: Untold thousands of Americans have gleefully read the figures on fantastic imports of little foreign cars during the past few years. The general feeling seems to be that it's great that Detroit has finally gotten its comeuppance.

Everyone who professes to know a tappit from a ring gear in the national periodicals have long called American cars "big, unrealistic boxes, fit only for hauling groceries down a straight paved street." And it generally seems that everyone has gone along with that hypothesis.

The entire nation—even people around here—are beginning to look with curiosity and interest at the little bugs from Germany, France, England, Sweden, Italy and Japan.

The tickle American public is plunking down $2,000-plus for these little buckets after being told that thousands of their brothers are on relief in the nation's auto producing centers. They pay just as much for a lot less automobile than America makes.

There's a lot wrong with American automobiles from the engineer's standpoint but from the economist's angle, they're the best basic production industry ever devised by man.

If you go to buy one of these little imports just remember that the people who make it have contributed nothing but an import tax to the betterment of this country. In a nation, just like in a small town, it pays to stick together. And any kind of car you could possibly want is produced in the United States today.

W. H. Graham Jr. in the State Line Tribune: Summer sneaked in when we weren't expecting it Sunday, and for a few hours we enjoyed the boyish art of tromping around the house and yard sans shoes.

If you have gotten it into your head that this younger generation is made up of a bunch of softies, just allow this writer to suggest that you remove your shoes and follow the kiddoes (who of course are also farefooted) off across the gravel, prickly grass, sticks, wire and even an occasional smashed bottle.

It's a real experience, and adventure of the sort not made for the fainthearted or thin-skinned. Just for kicks try walking a fence in your bare feet, letting the up-right boards gouge deep into the tender meed of your insoles. After a few moments you will concede that the boys and gals have still got something adults don't have.

Ernest Joiner in the Ralls Banner: Before another Girl Scout Cookie Drive rolls around, we ought to find out why Ralls lassies get to keep only 8 cents out of a 50-cent box of cookies, while the Canadian Record reports their Scouts get to keep more than 50 per cent of the retail price. If the price of two lousy postage stamps is all local kids are going to get for ringing doorbells and getting cussed out by the senior citizenry, the organization should be told to take their cockeyed cookies and stuff'em.

Cecil Waggoner in the Claude News: I have never been opposed to utility co-ops when used for their intended purposes, to take service to areas where private utilities cannot economically produce. But if we are going to make them competitive with private utilities by special legislation then let us also make them truly equal. Let them borrow their money on the open market, pay equal taxes and wages and carry on as any legitimate business enterprise.

The present co-op bill pending in the Texas legislature would prevent private utilities from expanding with the natural growth of a town or city. The bill is called, by co-op supporters, "the right to continue serving our customers" bill, but its effect would be far more reaching than just "serving their present customers." It would allow them to spread to all new residential areas through which their lines pass and, of course, would eventually spread to other areas.

Our question here is whether we pay lip service to free enterprise and give competitive co-op groups all the advantages or whether we make all enterprises stand on their own feet.

With just about a month left between now and May 12, automatic adjournment date, it's "now or never" time in the Texas Legislature.

Bill sponsors are challenging other members to "pass it or kill it." No more playing the waiting game. Less juggling of the parliamentary ball.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr gave this "get with it" mood a strong shove by taking a firm stand on tax goals. "There is no Santa Claus," Carr told House members. Texas must raise $300,000,000 in new money to meet its obligations, he said. On "how to do it," the Speaker made these suggestions and observations:

1. A bill is needed "which will include a broad array of selective taxes — including, but not confined to — selective sales taxes."
2. A general sales tax is "out." Lawmakers will — and should — keep their promises not to pass one.
3. "Broad" taxation would include upping levies in areas suggested by the governor — natural gas, liquor, cigarettes, corporations — but at a lower rate than suggested by the governor. In addition, many new items would be added, in keeping with the "spread thin, hurt little" principle.
4. "Piece-meal taxation" is unfair, inadequate to the present challenge. State government should not "reward political favorites." New taxes should be "spread across as much of the Texas economy as possible."
5. Likewise on appropriations. If college professors and state employees get a raise, public school teachers should, too.

Carr's speech was regarded as public announcement that he is taking the reins of leadership to get a tax program passed. Gov. Price Daniel's comment on Carr's statement was in the vein of "why didn't you say so before?" Daniel said, "I am in agreement with much of it and only wish it had been made 30 days earlier."

House taxation committee chairman V. L. Ramsey of Beckville named a five-man committee to write a tax bill and have it ready early next week. Given the task are Reps. Wesley Roberts of Lamesa, H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, Joe Burkett of Kerrville, Ben Atwell of Dallas and Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth.

Abandoned Property Bill
Governor's abandoned property

bill has been reported favorably by the House Tax Committee, but sponsors claim it has been "gutted" by committee action. As originally proposed, the bill would have allowed the state to take over bank accounts and money and property held by banks, insurance companies, oil and gas companies, etc., if unclaimed for seven years.

As amended, the measure cut out all holdings except bank accounts and upped the waiting period to 20 years.

Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, sponsor, said this would take away 60 per cent of the revenue raising possibilities.

Texas in 1980

Creation of a vast "government center" that would cover most of an area seven blocks long and four blocks wide is the aim of the Capitol Hill Master Plan.

Legislators, whose assent will be needed to make the dream a reality, got a preview of the 20-year plan from architects and Building Commission members.

Governor Daniel said the $37,000,000 project could be financed with no new taxes. Income, he said, would come from the Confederate pension fund, funds of state agencies now paying rent for privately owned buildings and funds now available to the Building Commission.

Recommended steps for 1960-61 are buying up several more blocks of land and remodeling the Capitol to provide offices for House members.

Party Registration Fight

A watered-down party registration bill is in line for House consideration after approval of the Elections Committee.

Original proposal by Rep. Jamie Clements of Crockett would have required that a voter state his party preference and have it stamped on his poll tax at time of purchase. Thereafter, the carrier of a "Republican receipt" could not vote in a Democratic primary and vice versa.

Attorney General Will Wilson ruled this unconstitutional. He said it set up requirements for voting not authorized in the constitution.

As amended the measure provides that a voter would have his receipt stamped when he voted in a primary or participated in party conventions. This would prevent his participating in the convention of a different party until he bought a new poll tax.

Liberal Democrats, particularly DOT spokesmen, were very dissatisfied, even called the attorney general's opinion "dead wrong."

BY LOUISE ALLEN

The "Career Girl" of the '20s was a faker, no doubt about it. She wanted her man just as badly as does today's eager young coed. But since she THOUGHT she was being honest, the pose had one advantage — at least she finished college before rushing into marriage.

Today's little lovelies, with stars in their eyes, can't wait to drop out of school, marry Jim, go to work, and see him through college.

Now, just for fun, let's imagine a conversation between Miss Coed of 1921 and Miss Ditto of 1959:

1921: "Quit SCHOOL to marry this guy! What's he got? A million dollars?"

1959: "No, but he's sweet! And we love each other."

1921: "So he's sweet. What's wrong with finishing college, then getting married?"

1959: "But he might find someone else, and I'd lose him!"

1921: "Not if he likes you as well as you think he does. If not, why sign up for life?"

1959: "But if we marry now, we'll have TWO MORE years to go! I don't want to wait!"

1921: "What's two years in a lifetime? Personally, I'd choose two more years of independence!"

1959: "I don't want independence. I want a husband."

1921: "I simply don't get it! You don't even know the man can support you."

1959: "I'm going to work anyhow."

1921: "Well, now look. If YOU are going to support the family, you NEED a college education!"

Both impractical, probably, and both a little selfish in their thinking. But of the two, give us Miss Independence of the '20s. By playing hard to get, she gave herself — and her man — a chance to grow up before taking on a life companion.

People who have no business of their own are sometimes able to make a failure of someone else's.

RAMBLING AROUND

DOYLE G. THOMAS
ASC Office Manager

IT'S SURPRISING how a rain will change the disposition of everyone. This includes businessmen as well as farmers. Everyone we came in contact with last Wednesday morning was smiling. The rain that started Tuesday will go a long way toward making a wheat crop in the county.

Businessmen in Canyon appeared to be just as happy as the farmers. They realize the importance of agriculture to their business as well as the economy of the county.

FRIENDS OF KENNETH Erwin, vice-chairman of the County Committee, will be interested in knowing that he is recovering nicely from the serious eye injury that occurred about four weeks ago. Kenneth was driving nails and one of them glanced off and shattered his glasses, cutting the left eyeball. Surgery was necessary and it is not known at this time how his eyesight will be affected. He is up and around and was in the office Tuesday of last week.

THE COUNTY COTTON allotment is 2053.8 acres. This is small compared to most counties but nonetheless it has an important place in the county's economy. We would like to again remind all farmers who have allotments to release any acreage back to the County Committee that they do not intend to plant. The deadline for releasing is April 17.

We point this out because the county loses history on any acreage not planted. In other words, our county allotment will be reduced in future years by the amount that our allotment is underplanted. In addition, farmers sorely need the acreage.

WE HAD 29 farmers to choose the choice B allotments and 172 farmers chose the A allotment. If the entire acreage of cotton is planted we will have 2137.7 acres. Many farmers have asked us about skiprow planting of cotton.

Under the allotment program we can take out any acreage if the width is not less than four normal rows. For example, if a field is planted 4 rows in cotton and 4 rows out, we will call the field 50 per cent cotton. A planting of two rows of cotton and 4 rows out would be called one-third cotton.

SOME FARMERS plan to plant the four rows not in cotton to a soil improving crop later in the summer. By doing this, the cotton can be rotated next year and eliminate the expensive cost of commercial fertilizer.

We think this plan has merit and will be interesting to watch. ACP cost-share assistance is available on approved legumes planted in this manner.

T & T Club Sees Cake Demonstration

The Tongue and Thimble Club met recently with Mrs. Bobby Gauthreaux, who gave a demonstration on cake decoration.

Washington Report Double Jeopardy

By Representative Walter Rogers
18th Congressional District

THE NATION'S CAPITAL is certainly a brilliant display of God's handiwork. The numerous and very colorful flowers are beginning to bloom, and the buds on the trees are beginning to open. By the time this letter reaches you, the famous cherry blossoms will be in full bloom.

AT THE TIME these Japanese cherry trees were presented to this country by the Japanese Government and placed around the Tidal Basin, an enterprising developer in the Washington area prevailed upon certain Japanese interests and acquired a large number of these trees which he planted in an addition he was opening.

WE ARE VERY fortunate to be living in a house in that area, and when the cherry blossoms bloom in the spring, the beauty is breathtaking for a period of several days. The trees overlap the streets like a white canopy making a vivid contrast to the brilliant pink of the azalea bushes and the flowering peach trees, and the striking yellow of the jonquils and forsythias.

ALL OF THIS is interspersed with the deep purples, reds and other colors of the flowers, as well as the deep green of the early spring grass. Actually, I know nothing in the world about growing flowers or about the names of them. I have overheard experts on the subject, and the words I have written above are a repeat of what was said.

BUT, IT MAKES little difference whether you know much about the flowers or not, it doesn't detract from the pleasure and enjoyment that you can have from just viewing this beautiful handiwork of our Maker. I wish all of you could be up here to set it.

CHANGING FROM beauty to the beast, I do want to say a few things about a decision of the Supreme Court last week. The decision was in the case of Louis Joseph Abbate and Michael Louis Falcone vs. United States. These two individuals were undoubtedly criminals and should have been punished.

THE QUESTION before the Supreme Court was whether or not they could be punished twice for the same act. They had been convicted in the State of Illinois and were subsequently indicted, tried and convicted by the United States District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi. The act with which they were charged was the same in both cases.

THE CASE AND the complex legal arguments involved would require more space to discuss than is available in this letter. However, I did want to call to the attention of the people the great dangers that lie in not maintaining a constant vigilance against the continual undermining of the sovereign powers of the states under the Constitution.

THIS SITUATION is pointed up by the following paragraph that appeared in the liberal Washington paper, and I quote it as follows:

"For instance, the Justice Department has argued that if the federal conviction in the Abbate case were reversed, it might frustrate the federal government's attempts to enforce civil rights. If the state conviction was held a bar to federal prosecution, Southern states might convict a person on a minor charge to avoid federal trial on a major charge to avoid federal trial on a major charge, it said."

IF THE JUSTICE Department did what this newspaper charges it with, it owes an apology to the people of this country and, especially, to those people residing in the southern states. The party or parties responsible for such an argument should resign and, in the absence of that, should be discharged. If the Justice Department did not take the position as stated in that newspaper, then the Attorney General of the United States, and the President who appointed him, should promptly deny such charge and disavow it.

IF THE TIME has come in this country when the people, who are supposed to govern themselves, are looked upon by a group of bureaucrats residing in Washington as being a bunch of culprits under a cloud of suspicion who would resort to any tactics whatever, illegal or immoral, to thwart the ends of justice, then it is time for this entire country to take stock of itself and do some rearranging. The fact of the matter is that a great number of the so-called lawyers occupying the government positions in the Department of Justice have never had the experience of operating a business of their own or trying to make a payroll, and this includes the Attorney General himself.

YET, THESE PEOPLE would argue that honest, law abiding citizens of the United States of America, who pay their salaries every month of the world, cannot be trusted, and are not even entitled to the presumption of innocence accorded the defendant in a criminal case under the Constitution.

I REALIZE that the South has been the whipping boy for a number of years under the controversial civil rights issue that was designed by the advocates of centralized government under a false name. But, I would call to the attention of those people who reside in other states and are willing to cast stones at the South that, if such a policy as pronounced in the arguments in the Abbate case is permitted to be adopted, this policy is a two-edged sword and would apply as well to the states in the Midwest, the Eastern Seaboard and the Pacific Ocean.

THOSE OF YOU who come from those states may take the position you desire, but as for me, I deeply resent the attitude of any division of the federal government, whether it be of Cabinet status or otherwise, that would cast such a slur on the people of this country or any part of it.

THE QUESTION OF double jeopardy presented in the Abbate case is a very serious thing, but it does not approach the seriousness of the attitude of those who would concentrate the powers of this government in the hands of a few and subject us, under their ideas of regimentation, to the status of slavery, in fact, if not in name.

You're steadier...

...in a road-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

Take all its beauty, balance it gracefully on a wider, steadier wheel design and you have a car the likes of which you've never owned. The wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance, but not the car. You're secure at the controls, more comfortable from head to toe. There's a noticeable lack of lean and sway. Narrow track cars fall far short by comparison. Wouldn't this be a good day for you to drive this sweet automobile? The keys are waiting.

MRS. JERALD W. BRIGHT

Sheets-Bright Vows Solemnized in Double Ring Ceremony at Home

In a double ring ceremony March 26 at the home of the bride, Grace Sheets, daughter of Mrs. W. E. Sheets, became the bride of Jerald W. Bright, son of Mrs. S. C. Bright of Petersburg.

Bob Wear, minister of the Central Church of Christ here, read the ceremony before a fireplace drape of greenery topped by wedding bells high above the mantle. The greenery draped down to large bouquets of white stock and carnations. Candelabra flanked the mantle.

Kathleen Akin of Petersburg played the traditional wedding music on the piano. Elwanda Martin, also of Petersburg, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Always."

Peggy Sheets, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore an ice blue waltz length dress of silk organza and carried a cascade arrangement of blue carnations with stock blossoms.

Larry Alford, nephew of the bridegroom, was best man. Candelights were Jody Sheets and Sidney Alford.

Given in marriage by her brother, Don Sheets, the bride was attired in a chapel length gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza, with lace bodice, scalloped neckline and skirt of silk organza with a wide lace insert. She wore lace mitts and carried a white orchid surrounded by stock blossoms in a cascade arrangement. She wore a headpiece of lace highlighted with pearls and a chapel length veil.

Mrs. Letha Golden registered guests, and Mrs. Wanda Clubb and Mrs. Wilma Cornette served cake and punch. All are sisters of the bride. The serving table was centered with an arrangement of blue carnations and white stock.

The bride chose a navy blue suit with white accessories and a white orchid corsage for the wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M.

The couple will be at home at Petersburg, where the bridegroom is engaged in farming. Mrs. Bright is teaching at Petersburg High School. She is a graduate of Canyon High School and West Texas State College.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Wilma Cornette, Linda and Clifford of White Deer; Mrs. Wanda Clubb of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Don Golden of Amarillo; Elwanda Martin, Kathleen Akin, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Alford and Larry, Merri-jon and Sidney, all of Petersburg; Donntta Ellis of Southland; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bright and Tanya of Abilene; and Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Armstrong, Doug and Mike of Olton.

CANYON DRUG

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

WE HAVE a long way to go before we reach a ceiling on crop yields. Just lately we have realized how great are the returns obtained from the use of several good practices used in irrigation farming. Some of these are land leveling; this is done by planing the surface so that it will be smooth and have a uniform slope.

BY LEVELING the land to slope of one to five-tenths of a foot or less, the water will travel slower and penetrate deeper. It will also water uniformly and have less tail water. There are several ways of leveling land. It can be bench leveled, or field leveled.

PIPELINES WILL also help in water conservation and will help produce the crop on less water by conserving the ditch loss and holding the evaporation to a minimum. Pipelines properly installed will also reduce the labor cost and add to the financial return.

FERTILIZING WILL also help to increase the amount of yield. By increasing the yield and maintaining the fertility of the soil the farmer can make more money on each acre. Commercial fertilizers will help keep the soil producing, but it will need some green manure to keep the humus built up.

HUMUS is important to the irrigation farmer. Humus in the soil tends to mellow the soil and keep it from running together and packing. Legumes are very good for the soil.

LEGUMES SUCH as vetch and clover will add nitrogen and when turned under with a good growth will produce humus. Experiments have shown the effects will be apparent on the land for five years or longer.

THE SOIL CONSERVATION Service technicians will be glad to help any farmers interested in improving his irrigation system. The Soil Conservation District has for rent land levelers, small carry-alls and grass drills.

Simplified design is a big secret of providing quality with economy in the John Deere "RW" Disk Harrow.

The "RW" is a rigid wheel-type disk harrow built to handle the same disking jobs with the same efficiency as many higher-priced units. In plowed ground, stubborn stalks, tough stubble, the "RW" fills the bill completely. It's a harrow that does outstanding work in all ground conditions, with the rubber-tired wheels serving as depth gauges in soft ground and with built-in weight pans to accommodate extra weight in tough conditions or wherever additional penetration is desired.
